

Information available from Saxmundham Town Council under the Freedom of Information Act 2000

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 provides public access to information held by public authorities. It does this in two ways -

- (1) public authorities are obliged to publish certain information about their activities and
- (2) members of the public are entitled to request information from public authorities.

The Act covers any recorded information that is held by a public authority in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, and by UK-wide public authorities based in Scotland. Public authorities include government departments, local authorities, the NHS, state schools and police forces. Recorded information includes printed documents, computer files, letters, emails, photographs, and sound or video recordings.

The Act does not give people access to their own personal data. If a member of the public wishes to Refer to information that a public authority holds about them, they should make a subject access request under the General Data Protection Regulation 2018.
